Table 2. The five debates in the study of international life (modification of Wiener 2006, 2)

Frame	First debate	Second debate	Third debate	Fourth debate	Fifth debate
Time Paradigm	1920s–1930s Idealism vs realism	1950s–1960s Scientific behaviourism vs traditionalism	1980s Post-positivism vs posi- tivism	1990s Constructivism vs rationalism vs reflexi- vist approaches	2001–* Linearity vs nonlinearity
Focus	Institutions vs interests	Science vs history	Epistemology: positivism vs post-positivism/ criti- cal theory	Ontology: social vs material capabilities	Epistemology and ontology: acceptance vs rejection of a reflexive 'biological turn' to explanation and/or understanding
Innovation	State system vs society of states	Behavioural explanation	Explanation vs under- standing	Causal vs constitutive explanation and/or understanding	Interrelatedness vs separation of human and nonhuman systems

* 2001 is taken as a start date mainly due to the symbolism of 9/11 as an event, an idiom and a moment that confronted scholars, policy-makers and publics with the reality of complexity.

21세기 세계의 꿈

President Barack Obama, the US Military Academy's commencement ceremony in West Point (2014)

- “In fact, by most measures, America has rarely been stronger relative to the rest of the world. Those who argue otherwise that America is in decline, are either misreading history or engaged in partisan politics. ... Our military has no peer. ...our economy remains the most dynamic on Earth....From Europe to Asia, we are the hub of alliances unrivaled in the history of nations...”
- The question America’s young generation will face is not whether America will lead, but how America will lead. The U.S. should not focus solely on securing the peace and prosperity for itself, but also extend peace and prosperity around the globe.

- 每个人都有理想和追求，都有自己的梦想。现在，大家都在讨论中国梦，我以为，实现中华民族伟大复兴，就是中华民族近代以来最伟大的梦想。
- 我坚信，到中国共产党成立100年时全面建成小康社会的目标一定能实现，到新中国成立100年时建成富强民主文明和谐的社会主义现代化国家的目标一定能实现，中华民族伟大复兴的梦想一定能实现。
- 在参观《复兴之路》展览时的讲话（2012年11月29日）

Prime Minister Shinzo Abe, "Toward an Alliance of Hope"—Address to a Joint Meeting of the U.S. Congress (April 29, 2015)

- "Proactive contribution to peace based on the principle of international cooperation" should lead Japan along its road for the future.
- Distinguished representatives of the citizens of the United States, let us call the U.S.-Japan alliance, an alliance of hope.
- Let the two of us, America and Japan, join our hands together and do our best to make the world a better, a much better, place to live.

Valdai speech of Vladimir Putin (October 24, 2015)

- "Today, we are seeing new efforts to fragment the world, draw new dividing lines, put together coalitions not built for something but directed against someone, anyone, create the image of an enemy as was the case during the Cold War years, and obtain the right to this leadership, or diktat if you wish."
- "Building a more stable world order is a difficult task. We were able to develop rules for interaction after World War II, and we were able to reach an agreement in Helsinki in the 1970s. Our common duty is to resolve this fundamental challenge at this new stage of development."
